Birmingham has seen 1400 years of growth,
during which time it has evolved from a small 7th century
Anglo Saxon hamlet on the edge of the Forest of Arden at the fringe of early Mercia to become a major city.

The youngest of the state's major cities, Birmingham was founded in 1871 at the crossing of two rail lines near one of the world's richest deposits of minerals. The city was named for Birmingham, England, the center of that country's iron industry. The new Alabama city boomed so quickly that it came to be known as the "Magic City."
